1 SECTION 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the
2 Overturn Citizens United Act.

3 SEC. 2. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

4 (a) The United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights are
5 intended to protect the rights of individual human beings.

6 (b) Corporations are not mentioned in the United States
7 Constitution and the people have never granted constitutional
8 rights to corporations, nor have we decreed that corporations have
9 authority that exceeds the authority of “We the People.”

10 (c) In Connecticut General Life Insurance Company v. Johnson
11 (1938) 303 U.S. 77, United States Supreme Court Justice Hugo
12 Black stated in his dissent, “I do not believe the word ‘person’ in 13 the Fourteenth Amendment includes corporations.”

14 (d) In Austin v. Michigan Chamber of Commerce (1990) 494
15 U.S. 652, the United States Supreme Court recognized the threat
16 to a republican form of government posed by “the corrosive and 17 distorting effects of immense aggregations of wealth that are 18 accumulated with the help of the corporate form and that have
19 little or no correlation to the public’s support for the corporation’s 20 political ideas.”

21 (e) In Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission (2010)
22 558 U.S. 310, the United States Supreme Court struck down limits
23 on electioneering communications that were upheld in McConnell
24 v. Federal Election Commission (2003) 540 U.S. 93 and Austin v.
25 Michigan Chamber of Commerce. This decision presents a serious
26 threat to self-government by rolling back previous bans on

30 (f) In Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission, Justices
31 John Paul Stevens, Ruth Bader Ginsburg, Stephen Breyer and

35 accumulation and distribution of assets, that allow them to spend
36 huge sums on campaign messages that have little or no correlation
37 with the beliefs held by natural persons.

(g) Corporations have used the artificial rights bestowed upon them by the courts to overturn democratically enacted laws that municipal, state, and federal governments passed to curb corporate abuses, thereby impairing local governments' ability to protect their citizens against corporate harms to the environment, consumers, workers, independent businesses, and local and regional economies.

(h) In Buckley v. Valeo (1976) 424 U.S. 1, the United States Supreme Court held that the appearance of corruption justified some contribution limitations, but it wrongly rejected other fundamental interests that the citizens of California find compelling, such as creating a level playing field and ensuring that all citizens, regardless of wealth, have an opportunity to have their political views heard.

(i) In First National Bank of Boston v. Bellotti (1978) 435 U.S. 765 and Citizens Against Rent Control/Coalition for Fair Housing v. Berkeley (1981) 454 U.S. 290, the United States Supreme Court rejected limits on contributions to ballot measure campaigns because it concluded that these contributions posed no threat of candidate corruption.

(j) In Nixon v. Shrink Missouri Government PAC (2000) 528 U.S. 377, United States Supreme Court Justice John Paul Stevens observed in his concurrence that "money is property; it is not speech."

(k) A February 2010 Washington Post-ABC News poll found that 80 percent of Americans oppose the ruling in Citizens United.

(l) Article V of the United States Constitution empowers and obligates the people of the United States of America to use the constitutional amendment process to correct those egregiously wrong decisions of the United States Supreme Court that go to the heart of our democracy and the republican form of self-government.

(m) The people of California and of the United States have previously used ballot measures as a way of instructing their elected representatives about the express actions they want to see them take on their behalf, including provisions to amend the United States Constitution.
